

About CART

Established in 1983 as a small voluntary group of concerned citizens, Consumer Unity & Trust Society (CUTS) expanded its activities and CUTS CART was set up in 1996 as a programme centre to pursue the cause of common consumers, initially being undertaken by CUTS as the mandate.

The programmes of the Centre are primarily aimed at generating awareness, creating a more responsible society and encouraging changes at the policy level by advocating with the government machinery and sensitising it to the issues of concern of the common man. The Centre has spearheaded several campaigns and pioneered consumer empowerment.

Partnership for Development Knowledge Conference in Yemen

Two years ago, Yemen was on the brink of an all-out civil war, paralysed by political and security crisis, in a region swelling with protest against authoritarian regimes. Today, it is taking peaceful steps forward through dialogue, as the only Middle Eastern country with a negotiated transition and a clear roadmap for change.

The crisis erupted in Yemen in early 2011, as popular uprisings stirred elsewhere in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region. As the Yemenis themselves started to look for a way out, the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) and United Nations helped Yemen to establish a way forward to prevent a descent into civil war.

Laying out the steps for a return to peace and stability, the transition agreement paved the way for transitional elections, and Government of National Unity in early 2012 along with steps to begin a critical restructuring of the armed forces.

Carrying forward the next steps in the transition, Yemenis were engaged in broad-based national dialogue supported by the United Nations, which concluded in January 2014.

Instilling the concepts of transparency and accountability, empowering civil society organisations (CSOs) and opening new opportunities for cooperation are important steps towards achieving democratic change. A cornerstone of the change process towards sustainable government-CSO partnerships is learning from international and regional experiences in countries that have undergone similar transitions.

Supporting government-CSO partnerships and constructive engagement is one of the key pillars of the World Bank's support in the MENA, and in Yemen specifically, which consists of strengthening the governance framework, both on the supply and demand side. As part of the World Bank's support, a Partnership for Development Knowledge Conference, supporting constructive engagement between Government of Yemen and CSOs, was organised in Sana'a, Yemen on March 04-06, 2014 with the objective to allow high-level decision makers and CSOs in Yemen learn from each other and international experiences.

On invitation from the Government of Yemen, as an international speaker George Cherian, Director, CUTS International participated in the conference, jointly organised by the Ministry of Planning and International Cooperation of Yemen and the World Bank Group. Cherian made a presentation on 'Government-CSO Partnerships and Collaborations: Lessons from India' and facilitated a working group on 'Citizens Engagement in Service Delivery'.

He visited the Indian Embassy and met with the Ambassador, Amrit Lugun. The Indian Ambassador also hosted a dinner for him along with Mohammed Alhaweri, Deputy Minister for Planning and International Cooperation, Government of Yemen, Mariana T Felicio and Najat Yamouri, The World Bank, Washington DC. As an outcome of the conference, it was decided to take India as model for Yemen to study and incorporate best practices.

Insights into Indian States

CUTS Centre for Consumer Action, Research & Training (CUTS CART) with the support of the United Nations Development Programme undertook a project entitled, 'Insights into Indian States'. The objective was to highlight the successful as well as not so successful practices followed in the selected States, in the selected areas and help policymakers implement relevant policies in the best manner possible.

Mapping Best Practices in Rural Non-Farm Sector

After formal launch of the project in all four states, team identified schemes under Rural Non-Farm Sector (RNFS) and started working on action research.
