Level events, and which was started with an awareness rally in Alwar, Rajasthan. He pointed out that under the project a Baseline Survey has been carried out to assess the level of awareness, general perception towards the whole issue of tobacco consumption among the various strata of the society. Findings of survey will be shared in this meeting and same events will be conducted in all seven divisions of Rajasthan, which will be concluded with the State Level Advocacy Meeting in Jaipur, he added.

Referring to the Quick Response Survey conducted at 12 locations in Jaipur city by CUTS CART on October 3, 2008, a day after the implementation of the 'ban on smoking in public places', which came to effect on October 2, 2008, George said that 35 percent of the people surveyed are not aware of the penalty clause, which is a matter of serious concern. In the second survey, 45 selected schools in Jaipur city were assessed in terms of awareness level on the status of Section 6 of National Tobacco Control Act 2003, which bans sale to minor and within the radius of 100 yards of educational institutions. One of the key findings of this survey points to the fact that there is a clear violation of Section 6, showing the poor status of the enforcement mechanism.

George informed participants about the Group of Ministers' decision to defer the pictorial warning on all tobacco products, which was to come into effect from December 1, 2008 and condemned it as an act to please the tobacco industry, which is a shame to the Indian democracy. He concluded his remarks with request to participants to provide their feedback/comments on the survey findings.

Amar Deep Singh, Project Officer CUTS CART made a PowerPoint presentation on the findings of survey. He started with briefing participants that tobacco consumption is resulting in 5.4 million deaths every year in the world, and out of this every fifth person is an Indian. By 2030, the deaths will be 8 million, and out of this 80 percent victims will be from developing countries such as India and China. In India, 14.1 percent of total children in the age group of 13-15 are consuming tobacco in which 17.4 percent are males and 9.7 percent are females. In addition, every day 5,500 new children are picking the habit to join the 4 million in India below 15 years consuming tobacco, he informed.

Amar Deep Singh told that CUTS CART has done a Baseline Survey under the project as is it a component of the project objective. The Survey aimed to assess the level of awareness with regards to tobacco control law, pattern of consumption among various strata of society and the perception towards the whole issue of tobacco consumption. He shared in detail all findings of Baseline Survey with participants and informed that survey has been done in all seven divisions of Rajasthan with the similar number of respondents in rural and urban area. Various professions, castes, and age groups have been covered in the survey in which 26 percent students and 20 percents tobacco vendors were also included.

According to some of important survey finding, selling of tobacco products to the minors are accepted by the 60 percent of tobacco sellers, while 17 percent tobacco shops were found in the radius of 100 yards of the schools. This is serious violation of Section 6 of National Tobacco Control Act 2003. About 64 percent of respondent accepted that they used tobacco to serve guest at home and in social functions like marriages, while 84 percent conceded that this custom is affecting the children and others. He also presented some of the recommendations, which emerged from the survey findings.

He thanked CUTS CART to provide the platform for carrying out advocacy on a very serious issue.

Dharamveer Kateva, President, Indian Asthma Care Society, presenting his views on the survey findings, agreed with all the recommendations made in it.
