

About CART

Established in 1983 as a small voluntary group of concerned citizens, Consumer Unity & Trust Society (CUTS) expanded its activities and CUTS CART was set up in 1996 as a programme centre to pursue the cause of common consumers, initially being undertaken by CUTS as the mandate.

The programmes of the Centre are primarily aimed at generating awareness, creating a more responsible society and encouraging changes at the policy level by advocating with the government machinery and sensitising it to the issues of concern of the common man. The Centre has spearheaded several campaigns and pioneered consumer empowerment.

It is Unlikely for India to Achieve Targets of SDG 12

Five years into the implementation of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the assessment of the progress in India shows, it is doubtful that India will achieve any of the targets of SDG 12, which is Responsible Consumption and Production. In addition, the status of many of the indicators may further worsen by 2030, comparing with 2015, due to the negative impact of the pandemic and various other factors.

This was one of the major findings of a study conducted by CUTS International on SDG 12 titled "Sustainable Consumption and Production – A Consumer Perspective". The study mainly looked at SDG 12 from a consumer perspective based on the United Nations Guidelines for Consumer Protection (UNGCP).

The key findings of this study were discussed and deliberated in the National Consultation organised by CUTS International in partnership with the Swedish Society for Nature Conservation (SSNC) in New Delhi on March 18, 2021.

During the inaugural session, Rene Van Berkel, UNIDO Representative, Regional Office in India, said "SDGs are very interconnected. SDGs are like a dice with seventeen sides, we cannot move on any side without moving the other ones, so one cannot just pick out anyone's goal without any action on others."

In the opening address, George Cherian, Director, CUTS International, expressed concern about how neglected SDG 12 is compared to all other goals. He claimed that SDG 12 is an orphan goal, as the goal itself is a mixed bag with many of its targets outside the control of the Ministry of Environment. For instance, Sustainable Tourism is the responsibility of the Ministry of Tourism. Sustainable Public Procurement, if implemented, would become the responsibility of the Ministry of Finance.

Archana Datta, SWITCH-Asia RPAC Coordinator for India, UNEP, while referring to the finding of CUTS study that there is an absence of effective monitoring and data collection framework for SDG 12. She concluded by saying that while science and knowledge required for implementing the 2030 Agenda are already well advanced, what is needed is a creative will. The country should use the pandemic crisis to encourage greater action, collaboration, and knowledge sharing among stakeholders for the larger public good.

The consultation happened in three separate sessions, saw participation from various government departments, organisations working on sustainable consumption and consumer protection from Delhi and other states, including Chhattisgarh, Himachal Pradesh, Kerala, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh.

Tackling Plastic Pollution: World Consumer Rights Day 2021

Plastic waste is India's and the world's most formidable (difficult to deal with) environmental challenge today, and the COVID-19 pandemic has made matters worse. After steel and cement, which is used in the construction industry, plastic is the most significant produced material, said George Cherian, Director in the opening remarks in an event organised by CUTS to observe World Consumer Rights Day.

Globally, over 8.3 billion tonnes of plastic have been produced since 1950, and about 60 percent have ended up in landfills or the natural environment. Plastic waste generation in the Asia Pacific region is expected to reach 140 million tonnes by 2030. According to a recent Central Pollution Control Board report, it is estimated that India generates approximately 9.46 million tonnes per annum of plastic waste (which amounts to 26,000 tonnes of waste per day). Out of this, approximately 5.6 million tonnes per annum plastic waste is recycled (i.e. 15,600 tonnes of waste per day) and 3.8 million tonnes (40 percent) per annum plastic waste is left uncollected or littered (9,400 tonnes of waste per day) and the rest is dumped at landfill sites. India has pledged to ban all single-use plastics by 2022.

In his introductory remarks, Deepak Saxena, Assistant Director, CUTS International, said that each year, consumer organisations mark the day by joining together to highlight and raise awareness of an important issue to consumers worldwide. The day has been chosen since it was on March 15, 1962, and then US President John F Kennedy addressed the US Congress defining and upholding consumer rights. Since 1995, Consumers International is responsible for coordinating this event at the international level. This year, the theme is 'Tackling Plastic Pollution.'

Along with World Consumer Rights Day observation, CUTS also earmarked this day as the State Level Stakeholder's consultation of its ongoing project ProOrganic in ten districts of Rajasthan. On this occasion, Rajdeep Pareek, Programme Officer, CUTS presented 2020-21 year's activities with key highlights and major outcomes and recommendations.

A S Baloda, Director, Rajasthan Agriculture Research Institute, reiterated the need for a constant campaign on organic farming. Farmers and consumers should also understand its importance in the longer run. Only joint effort can make this organic movement successful. Shailendra Chouhan, Assistant General Manager, National Bank for Agricultural and Rural Development (NABARD), appreciated CUTS efforts and shared some interesting facts about CUTS' work on Farmer Producer Organisations supported by NABARD.

Padma Shree Awardee Jagdish Pareek made his presence felt by narrating some important tips on organic farming in his simple style and language. Deepika Saini, Quality Manager, Rajasthan State Organic Certification Agency, provided tips to participating farmers on organic certification.
